

ROBERTO PINELLI

Having gained extensive experience in Italy and abroad, including twenty years as a microsurgeon and researcher in the field of ophthalmology, in 2013 Roberto Pinelli became founder and CEO of SERI - the Switzerland Eye Research Institute in Lugano. SERI Lugano is a centre for innovative research in vision science where he continues to develop the use of photons in treating visual impairments, presbyopia and retinal degenerative diseases, combining this with specific nutraceuticals.

The Lugano Protocol, developed in SERI Lugano, and using photobiomodulation and natural phytochemistry, has been the subject of internationally-renowned peer-reviewed scientific publications in the field of neuroscience, opening up new perspectives for the use of photobiomodulation and nutraceuticals in neurodegenerative diseases, extending beyond the field of ophthalmology.

He is a staunch advocate of new surgical techniques and innovations in ophthalmology, with a constant focus on non-invasiveness, rapid and pain-free treatment, immediate discharge from the clinic and overall patient's well-being. The eye treatments are distinguished by the use of different light sources applied in the different phases of treatment, and depending on the proposed objective. Photons - infinitesimal light particles - are selected according to different types and modulations, and channelled to the eyes in a natural manner. This means that surgical scalpels, incisions, injections and stitches can be completely avoided. FemtoLasik Lux® uses femtosecond, exciplex and ultraviolet light for the correction of myopia, hypermetropia and astigmatism; the Pinelli Presby Profile® incorporates a special algorithm for the treatment of presbyopia; Transepithelial Osmotic Corneal Cross-Linking with ParaCel® is a procedure which allows keratoconus to be treated without trauma thanks to the synergy between UV-A and an eye drop solution developed by Dr Pinelli and marketed worldwide. This action halts the progression of the disease and avoids the need for a corneal transplant. In 2018, he launched the "Pinelli Project", a project aimed at formulating plant-based nutraceutical products for the well-being of the eyes and the body.
